COL. MARR WINS FIGHT IN BOARD

Action Is Rescinded, and He Remains Dean of Engineering Department.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BLACKSBURG, VA., November 21.—At a meeting of the Board of Visitors of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, held yesterday afternoon, Col. J. C. Marr won a complete victory in that the action of the board at the meeting last June, requesting his resignation, was rescinded, and he will remain as the dean of the engineering department. Col. Marr had protested against the action of the board, and at to-day's meeting his interests were looked after by Hon. R. E. Byrd and Congressman Saunders.

A RECORD CONTRACT.

[North Carolina Company Places Great Order for Transformers.]

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BOSTON, MASS., November 21.—A contract for transformers aggregating $2,000 kilowatts has just been secured by the New York district office of the Westinghouse Electric Company from the Southern Power Company, of Charlotte, N. C. This is the largest contract for transformers ever made in electric concern. The machines range in size from 1,000 to 2,000 kilowatts, with a voltage of 10,000 volts. The apparatus will be used on the transmission line of the Southern Power Company between Charlotte, Greensboro and Greenville, covering an area of twenty-four miles.

MAINTENANCE, VA., November 21.—One of the most attractive and enjoyable dances of the season was given Friday night by the Junior German Club.

BURNED TO DEATH.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HIGH POINT, N. C., November 21.—The Rev. Mr. John D. Beaver, once a rich man, was burned to death last evening in a fire which destroyed his house. A four-year-old boy escaped from a side bed. The unfortunate man lost his home and all his furniture.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 21.—Peter J. Hollingshead, the cotton firm of Peter J. Hollingshead & Company, was run over and killed by a railroad train at Elysian-fields avenue and North Prior street this morning.

[Hoyal Vice-Presidential Candidates Make Exchange of Eulogies.]

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
UTICA, N. Y., November 21.—The following correspondence between John W. Kern and James S. Sherman is made public:

INDIANAPOLIS, November 17, 1908.
Hon. J. S. Sherman:
My Dear Mr. Sherman—Now that the smoke of battle has cleared away and the rush of congratulatory messages is over, permit me, with my own hand, to extend my sincere congratulations to you, and to assure you how greatly I appreciate your uniform courtesy throughout the campaign, with kindest regards and best wishes, I am, "Very sincerely," JOHN W. KERN."

Utica, N. Y., November 21, 1908.
The Hon. John W. Kern, Indianapolis, Ind.:
My Dear Mr. Kern—Your exceedingly gracious letter of the 17th instant is to-day received.

I am gratified to receive your kindly congratulations. It is a pleasant memory that during the campaign no word was spoken on either side that, so far as we are personally concerned, we would wish unsaid.

"I shall indeed be pleased if the Democracy of Indiana makes it possible for you to be a witness to my inauguration, without accepting the invitation I left for you when in your home town.

"With expression of regard and esteem, I am,
"Cordially yours,
J. S. SHERMAN."

Miss Florence Gear Comes Along With a First-Rate Play

Though "Marrying Mary" has long been presented by women better known hereabout than Miss Florence Gear, she established herself at the Academy yesterday and last night that she just as well as the others. The musical play is bright, excellently presented and well worth while. There are no dull moments and few dull ones. The story is the legend of the girl on the part of the rather sporty rector from Newport. "Marrying Mary's" husband, one of whom was a Mormon, comes back at a matrimonial banquet, though disguised of them as cleverly as she interpreted her lines. Indeed, one
